FORTIETH YEAR NO. 8

DEATH CLOSES LONG AND USEFUL PUBLIC CAREER OF JOSEPH E. SAUCIER

Passed Away In 78th Year of Public Service and Useful-ness—Served Efficiently In Varied Federal, County And City as Well as Private Trusts.

Following an illness of a comparative short time, Joseph Evariste Saucier, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Florence Mitchell in Touline street, surrounded by loved ones and close friends at 1:10 Friday morning, February 19, 1931. He was first stricken with the flu and his condition became aggravated, superinduced by advanced age, and the end came as a result.

Joseph Evariste Saucier was born in Bay St. Louis 78 years ago and resided in this city all his life, always serving the public in positions of trust and honor. For a number of consecutive terms he served the Bay St. Louis Board, No. 5, as justice of the peace, and from these days in his early manhood he was known as Judge Saucier and affectionately called "Judge" the balance of his life by all who knew him.

During the incipient years of the Hancock County Bank he served that institution as assistant cashier, serving with the late Cashier Eugene Roberts, one of the founders of that institution.

When the Merchants Bank was organized some twenty-six years ago, as a successor to the Hancock County Bank, he was again appointed to the position of assistant cashier, serving with the late Cashier Eugene Roberts, one of the founders of that institution.

Under President Wilson, Judge Saucier was again appointed to the Bay St. Louis postmaster's position and again served with marked ability and to the satisfaction of all concerned. His experience served him in good stead.

He was elected sheriff and tax-collector of Hancock county before he served his second term as postmaster, and again in public office distinguished himself for application and excellent service.

Following his term as sheriff, he was elected assessor for Hancock county and again served in his well-known capacity and ability. For many years he served as a member of the Bay St. Louis school board and as secretary of that body, giving this honorary position the same unremitting and valuable service he did other trusts where there was remuneration or emolument. As a member of the school board he gave valuable aid and personal assistance in quelling proceedings against patrons charged with impure Caucasian blood.

The death of his beloved wife some three years ago was a shock from which he never fully recovered and his impaired eyesight kept him from active life. After the death of Mrs. Saucier he made his home with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. J. Mitchell, where his last years were made most comfortable by every possible solicitation. He died peacefully and beautifully as he had lived. A Catholic, he received the last spiritual consolation of his church, and his funeral was conducted with the rites of that church.

The remains were tenderly laid away in the family burial plot at St. Mary's Cemetery Saturday afternoon, marked by a wealth of beautiful flowers, mute testimony of the general esteem in which he was held.

Judge Saucier is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Camille Casanova, of Algiers, La.; Mrs. Florence Mitchell, of Bay St. Louis; Mrs. Louise Robinson, of New Orleans.

Four sons, Forest Saucier of Hattiesburg; Placide V. Saucier, of San Antonio, Texas; Turner Saucier, of Houston, Texas; and Alcine E. Saucier, who is chief of the police service, Bay St. Louis.

A sister, Mrs. Lydia Saucier Eagan, and one brother, William E. Saucier, both residents of Bay St. Louis, also survive, and by his step-father Judge John A. Breath, also a half brother, Charles A. Breath of Bay St. Louis, and Mrs. Vicky Calogre of New Orleans.

"Joe" Saucier, while in the public eye practically through his long career of many years, was essentially a home man. Next to his fellowman he loved best his wife and children. His home was his castle. Practically all of his family life he resided on Main street.

He was true to his friends and numbered them wherever he was known. He was acquainted over the county and his name had an affectionate place in every home where he was known. He was always elected by large majorities for the people's respect in him every home and he never betrayed their trust.

His life was one covering a long span of years, rich in doing and to his children and friends he leaves the heritage of a useful and well-spent life. His memory will ever remain with those who knew him.

BOXING EVENT IS SLATED

St. Stanislaus First Prep-School To Put on Boxing Contest on Coast—February 24.

With the exhibition of boxing promised for Tuesday night, February 24, St. Stanislaus ushers in the sport to the Coast fans. The Rock-A-Chaw will be the first of the Coast Prep Schools to take on the sport. We are anticipating some keen competition from Louisiana schools this season and even from some of the Texas schools, if our patronage warrants our bringing them here.

Ten bouts are scheduled for Tuesday night. Plenty of pep will be shown as all are anxious to make the first Rock-A-Chaw team in this line of sport. The weights will range from 60 to 160. The little fellows will be in there to show what they can do as well as the big boys, for they are as interested to make the team.

The ring has been so constructed and so placed that almost every seat in the gym will be ring-side. Any wishing to make reservations may write or phone the Athletic Director. A drop light has been installed to make the ring conspicuous from every angle.

Coach Breath has some thirty boys to pick from for his first bout. Contestants will not be announced until Monday afternoon, February 23. Those who are present trying out the team are: Bill Foster, Sam Ballard, Frank Hobbs, Jules Moty, Henry Gasque, Mackie Reine, A. Toarmina, Edmund Blaize, Kaufman, Joe Glover, A. Glover, Roy, J. Nix, Geo. Benedetto, Joe Castro, Wackler, Paul Labry and others.

MID-WINTER MEETING OF SAINT STANISLAUS ALUMNI AND TEACHERS

Possible Notre Dame, With Marchmont Schwartz, Will Play in New Orleans Next Season—Brother Peter Among Speakers For Event.

Alumni, former students and teachers of St. Stanislaus College held their annual mid-winter conference and banquet Sunday afternoon at Roosevelt Hotel, New Orleans, at which Rev. Father Florence D. Sullivan, S. J., president Loyola University, was master of ceremonies. Many of the former professors, students and members of the alumni were present and the event was one outstanding in every phase.

Father Sullivan was the principal speaker. He urged the alumni to assist in persuading football stars of the south to remain South instead of going North, where they gain fame for the Northern Universities.

He mentioned Marchmont Schwartz as one of the stars who went North, and said the alumni should interest themselves in keeping important players in the South.

He also urged the alumni to send telegrams to the Notre Dame directors asking that the Notre Dame-Loyola game be played.

Other speakers were Michael Irwin, assistant attorney general, and secretary of the alumni; Brother Peter, president of St. Stanislaus, and Walter Coquille, the Mayor of Bayou Ponton.

A large number of alumni and teachers attended. Among them were A. J. Seiro, A. J. Brady, N. Haas, Brother Robert, M. E. Haas, B. P. Landry, Brother Justin, N. M. Irwin, Brother Lambert, C. H. Munson, A. V. Adams, C. J. Lassin, C. J. Wilbert, J. R. Rymel, J. A. L. Maurer, J. Bontemps, E. N. Blaize, Dr. J. J. Irwin, C. D. Clavierie, Victor D. Gerolamo, Louis Jacob, S. J. Keller, O. R. Queen, J. P. McGinn, E. D. Finac, J. N. Birmingham, J. R. Gendy, A. D. Landry, C. J. Hime, H. Bonura, E. L. Danzell, J. Reich, L. Baron, J. Blaise, J. P. Schiro, F. L. Oll, G. Falgout, C. Gerard, V. Di Gerolamo, Pete Jones, H. D. Keller, E. J. Ricard, O. Mary, Jr., Ramon Garcia, Louis P. Gauduchaud, Gene Crowe, Rene de Montblanc, Dr. Frank J. Reyes, J. M. Fortin, R. M. Bourgeois, Paul Gaudy, Sam Corniglia, J. N. Shirer, B. S. Waller, Brother Peter, Linden Braud, president of the alumni association.

PASS CHRISTIAN ANNUAL KING AND QUEEN BALL FOR '31

Miss Emelie Farrell Beautiful Queen—Elwood Abbley Gracious King.

A beautiful and interesting event of the Carnival season on the Gulf Coast and across the bay from this city, was the annual King and Queen Ball at Pass Christian, marking the Carnival season.

The reception and ball was given at Grey Castle, in a setting that was most fitting. The royal party entered the throne and ball room from the second floor of the castle, sweeping down the great stairway. First came the heralds, Masters Marlin Sutherland and James Dubuisson, followed by pages, Masters James Terrell, Jr., and Phil Ambler, Jr.

Then the king of the court of 1930, Bernard Knost, accompanied by his charming queen, Miss Marie Bertrand. This party led the way for the court of 1931, and stepping aside, came the king, Mr. Elwood Abbley, accompanied by his royal consort, Miss Emelie Farrell, who presented a picture of regal beauty and personal loveliness.

Dukes were, Buford Bell, John E. Farrell, Clyde Lundy, Wm. V. Robinson, Fred Sutter, Carl Vickers. Maids, Hazel K. Woods, Miss Elmore Sanders, Miss Katherine Hayden, Miss Katherine Saucier, Mrs. Peggy Gause, Miss Katherine Northrop.

This function, under auspices of the Alumni Society of the Catholic school of Pass Christian, was easily an outstanding affair of the season. The number in attendance was large and represented society from along the Gulf Coast, every town and section honoring the court. The affair was a success from every angle. This was the second annual Carnival court and ball for Pass Christian.

Methodist Missionary Council To Be Held At New Orleans, February 24-26

The outstanding missionary event of the year among Methodists, will be the fifth annual session of general missionary council at New Orleans, February 24 to 26.

There will be devotional, inspirational and missionary addresses by noted speakers. The missionary policy and program of the church will be reviewed in discussions in which all will participate. Rev. C. C. Clark and others from Bay St. Louis will attend this extraordinary event in the annals of the church as regards missionary work.

BAY CITY ROTARY IS ACTIVE

Bay St. Louis Club Vibrantly Alive—Rev. Moore Speaks—Gulf Park Orchestra Next Week

With thousands of Rotary Clubs successfully functioning over the world, which makes the order internationally famous, the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club is one of our city's most active and effective organizations, representing as it does in a great measure the professional and business phase of the community, a factor in good fellowship and constructive forces of a city.

The Bay St. Louis club is vibrant with life and activity and its weekly luncheons and programs eagerly sought for from week to week. At no time has the club been a more active force and striving for more possibilities than at present. Its night school for boys and girls of Bay St. Louis is commendable and blessed. Its motto, "Service above Self," is always in vogue.

This week's feature of the program included a talk by Rev. J. W. Moore, pastor of the Methodist church at Logtown, whose subject was "Fellowship," and how well he stressed his five points is best attested to by the unusually large gathering of Wednesday fortunate to have heard him. Rev. Moore is scholarly and a thinker and his talk was commensurate with such attribute and accomplishment.

This Friday night representatives will journey to Picayune to attend a Ladies' Night celebration by the club of that city at the Peach Tree Inn. It is well that Bay St. Louis will be represented.

Next Wednesday the club will hold its luncheon in the main dining room of Hotel Weston, when members of the Gulf Park College orchestra will entertain in divers numbers, which comes to Bay St. Louis Rotary with the compliments of Dr. Richard G. Cox and faculty of the college. It is expected many guests will be present and the event easily an outstanding one in Rotarian annals of Bay St. Louis and Hancock county.

The program committee is composed of Dr. J. A. Evans, George R. Rea and Dr. C. M. Shipp. The Fellowship Committee functioning Wednesday is composed of Harold B. Weston, chairman; Luther M. Ansley, C. C. McDonald.

GREENHOUSE AT PASS CHRISTIAN OF UNUSUAL INTEREST

At This Particular Season of Year—Where Plants are Scientifically Grown.

A visit to greenhouses of Adams, florist, at Pass Christian, these days is well worthy of the visit. In fact there is nothing like it in this section for variety of plants, number and arrangement.

J. B. Adams, father of Wm. J. Adams, prior of Loraine's Flower Shops, Pass Christian, Gulfport and Biloxi, is in direct charge of the greenhouses and it is evident he is a master of the work. Intelligent application and unceasing diligence, the price of success, is evident on all sides. Here are thousands of colorful plants with leaves of multi-color, bright green and scarlet and crimson reds contrasting with gold, brown and dark colors. There are thousands of trees. Then one turns to another sight, thousands of healthy stock plants, ready to be planted in the open; salvii and many others hold the attention. Another portion of the greenhouses show giant sweet pea vines carrying many blossoms with their delicate yet lasting fragrance.

It will soon be time for outdoor planting and the green houses will furnish many seedling plants just as soon as the soil becomes receptive for growth.

Others nurseries also specialize in shrubbery, such as arbor vitae and others of the hardy and ornamental growth, and this is propagated and grown in the open fields some twelve miles away, north of DeLisle on the Poplarville road. The open nurseries here are extensive and Mr. Adams only grows the best, selling healthy and well-established plants, the customer taking no chances.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams are most cordial and a visit to the Loraine Flower Shop or to the greenhouses is always a source of interest and pleasure; you are welcome whether you buy or not. The Adams greenhouses, nurseries and flower shops, conducted extensively and successfully to the extent that business resolves into an industry for this section and must be recognized as such.

CATHOLIC WOMEN TO MEET AT S. J. A. GYM NEXT FRIDAY

To Rally Forces For National Council of Catholic Women of America—At 3:30 P. M.

A meeting of Catholic Women will be held in Bay St. Louis on Friday of next week, February 27, at 3:30 o'clock at St. Joseph's Academy Gym, by the Catholic women of this section to hear Dr. Nicholson, field representative of the National Council of Catholic Women, with headquarters at Washington, D. C., this meeting in the interest of the National Council.

This meeting will represent the Catholic Women from Waveland, Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Kiln, DeLisle, Long Beach, with the following named representatives from each place, as follows: Father M. J. Costello for Waveland; Very Rev. A. J. Gmelch for Bay St. Louis; Rev. A. C. Denis, church of the Annunciation at Kiln; Rev. Wm. J. Leach, St. Paul's Church at Pass Christian; Rev. R. J. Sorin, Church of Our Lady of Good Hope at DeLisle; Rev. Jos. M. Hager, C. M., at Long Beach.

Bishop Grogan, sponsoring this organization of the State's forces for the National Council and urges all who can to attend these group meetings in anticipation of the State convention to be held at Jackson, March 15.

Miss Jane Lang of Pass Christian is actively engaged in the cause and one of the outstanding leaders. Our Catholic Women are respectfully urged to be at the convent gym next Friday evening at 3:30 o'clock. The meeting will be a large one and representative.

HANCOCK CITIZEN PASSES

Captain William Abner Hursey Relapses and Dies At Pearlington Home Sunday

Captain William Abner Hursey, 44 years old, pioneer lake ferryman, died at the family residence in Pearlington, this county, Sunday noon, following a relapse from an attack of influenza.

Abner Hursey was a regular pioneer. He made many friends during the days he operated the New Orleans-Pearlington ferryboats and later the ferries at Chef Menteur and Rigolets. Captain Hursey was well known far and wide for his generosity.

After free bridges were completed at the Chef and Rigolets Captain Hursey turned his attention to the operation of barges and towboats. He developed a system for the transportation of oil from the fields along the Gulf near Houma by tank barges.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Christine Beyer Hursey, and three children, William A. Hursey, Eva and Lottie Hursey, all of Pearlington; four brothers, Philip Hursey of Hattiesburg, Miss.; Sidney and Mead Hursey of Slidell, and Asa Hursey of Jackson, Miss.; four sisters, Mrs. J. O. Leanhard, Miss Octavia Hursey of Slidell, Mrs. C. R. Farr of Hattiesburg, Miss., and Miss Con Carr of Jackson, Miss., and his mother, Mrs. Laura Orr Hursey of Slidell.

Captain Hursey was a member of Diamond Lodge No. 393, F. & A. M., of Logtown, Miss.; Royal Arch Chapter No. 121 of Gulfport, Miss., and held membership in the Shrine at New Orleans.

Funeral took place Monday afternoon from the late residence at Pearlington, with Masonic honors, and interment in the family burial plot at that place.

Captain Hursey was well known in Bay St. Louis, the county seat, and one time, was a frequent visitor, known by practically every body here. His health has been bad for several years past, and it was only by his indomitable energy and mental aggressiveness that combined his ailments. His death is deeply deplored, and by his passing away Hancock county has lost another well-known and highly esteemed citizen.

Herbert Zingarling Kills American Eagle At Bayou Lacroix

Herbert Zingarling, young son of Joseph Zingarling, shot and killed a typical American eagle at Bayou Lacroix Saturday, the 14, measuring 7 and one half feet wing spread, and said to be a beautiful specimen. So much so that the bird was taken to St. Joseph's Academy where a famous French taxidermist will mount the great American bird and same to be placed in the Academy's museum.

The bird is one of several seen in the neighborhood the past few days. It was killed by Herbert with a Remington 22-special rifle. It created considerable interest and will prove an acquisition to the Academy's museum in Bay St. Louis.

CARDINAL HAYES ON MISS. COAST

Distinguished Churchman And Party at Edgewater Park For Stay of Ten Days.

Cardinal Patrick J. Hayes, archbishop of New York, arrived at Edgewater Park, on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, on an early morning train Wednesday for a ten-day visit before continuing his winter trip to San Antonio, Texas, about March 1.

Accompanying Cardinal Hayes is his secretaries, Monsignor Donahue and Monsignor Arcese, and his host, George McDonald, New York capitalist, in whose private car, the Marco Polo, the party arrived at 4:55 A. M. Through Monsignor Donahue, the Cardinal indicated that he would decline interviews for a "day or two."

No Visitors. The arrival of the ecclesiastical party had not been heralded and no visitors appeared at the side-track on the grounds to the rear of the Edgewater Gulf Hotel, where the party had reserved a suite of rooms. The Cardinal and his companions slept late, breakfast in the private car at 9:30 o'clock then walked slowly along the concrete walkway bordering the bridge path to the hotel. Bright skies and springlike temperature favored the party, whose members stopped to watch a passing airplane, and again to study the fluttering movements of newly arrived colony of purple Martins at a birdhouse.

Orleans on Route. The itinerary of the cardinal's party provides for the holding of the McDonald car at Edgewater Park until about 3:20 o'clock on the afternoon of March 1, when it will leave on Louisville and Nashville Train No. 5 for New Orleans, where a five-hour night stop will precede their departure for San Antonio. The party will return approximately by the same route, but on dates not yet announced. They left New York Monday night.

WIDOW OF HENRY W. WESTON OF LOGTOWN DIES AT SARDIS HOME

Was Formerly Miss Ellen Poitevent, Aged 82.—Pass-Away After Prolonged Illness.

A message from Logtown to the Echo Wednesday announced that Mrs. Henry H. Weston, widow of the founder of the H. Weston Lumber Company, at Logtown, had passed away that morning at her home at Sardis, Miss., following a long illness, aged 82 years. The funeral took place at Sardis.

Mrs. Weston was thrice married. She was first Mrs. McCracken then Mrs. McAvoy and many years ago while yet a young woman contracted her third marriage with Mr. Weston. The union was a long and happy one. She is survived by one son, John McCracken, of Sardis, and two daughters, Mrs. Pearl Rainwater of Little Rock Ark., and Mrs. Joseph Carter of Memphis, Tenn.

It is said of Mrs. Weston that she "was richly endowed with the gifts and graces of her family, and used them for the betterment of the land she loved and the people who appreciated her helpfulness. During her long life, Mrs. Weston resided in and remained devoted to Mississippi."

Woodmen of the World Give Successful Annual Mardi Gras Benefit Ball

Giving only two benefit balls per annum, one of July 4 and the other on Mardi Gras night, Bay St. Louis Woodmen on Tuesday night gave their ball for latter date, with perhaps an attendance larger than any of that in the past recent years.

There were attendants from all nearby sections, Gulfport and adjacent territory well represented. While all returns were not made at this writing it was safely predicted that over $175.00 would be cleared.

The Woodmen gave the ball at their own hall. It was in charge of the following committee: Frank Quintani, chairman; Gasper Maurig, Gaston Ladner, John Plou, Henry Cuneo, P. J. Boudin, Manuel Maurig. Music was by Labat's Jazz Band, of Bay St. Louis.

Leave it to the Bay Legion Post to observe or celebrate a day and it will result in a matter of pride to the city and call for congratulation. Accordingly, next Monday, February 23, Washington's 199th birthday will be appropriately observed since the Clement R. Bontemps Post has planned and will carry out an extensive program for the day.

First at parade, forming at Hotel Weston at 2:30 o'clock, followed at 3 o'clock by appropriate exercises, Bay High auditorium, to which the public is invited. At night a play, benefit building fund St. Joseph's Academy Gym.

The parade will cover the following route: South Beach to Union street, Second street, Main street, North Beach, Ullman avenue to High School. Order of formation—Police Escort, Gulfport Drum and Bugle Corps, Color Guard, Sailors from Biloxi Coast Guard Base No. 15, Legionnaires and Ex-Service men, St. Stanislaus College Band, Benevolent and Social Organizations, Public. Immediately after parade at 8 P. M., all school children and the public are invited to be present at the commemorative services at the High School Auditorium.

This program follows: Salute to Colors. Color Guard Chairman of Ceremonies, Laurent Dickson. Invocation, Rev. C. C. Clark. Address, Mayor Chas. Traub, Sr. Address, Robert Genin. Speaker of Day, Lt.-Gov. Bidwell Adam. Benediction, Rev. Father Leo Fahey. Retirement of Colors. Color Guard. Patriotic airs will be furnished by the St. Stanislaus College Band.

In concluding the day's exercises there will be the following benefit program at the St. Joseph's Academy "Gym," at 8 P. M. "Ile," a one act play of heavy drama will be given by the members of the "Coast Dramatic Club" of Gulfport. The proceeds of this troupe have been donated. The scene is in a cabin on an ice-bound whaling ship. The cast of characters are portrayed by the following: W. B. "Goo Goo" Cook as a peg-legged and one-eyed steward. Jimmie Maxwell, as Ben, a frightened cabin boy.

H. A. Genung, Jr., as a persistent captain. Dr. R. N. Cahill, as a willing first mate. Miss Ruth Scott, as the wife of Capt. Keeney, and has a dislike for the silent frozen north.

Al Williams, as Joe, the harpioneer and leader of the mutineers. Messrs Cook and Williams will be remembered as having participated in the Bay St. Louis Legion Minstrel Show. Skit: "Lost in the Shuffle" by Eli and Primus.

Primus, Mr. H. S. Saucier. Eli, Mr. M. O. Blanchard. Skit—Recitation by Mr. C. A. Gordon. Assisted by Messrs. A. A. Scafide, Fred Payard, Wm. Wade, Claud Bourgeois and Joe Gilbert. Musical numbers furnished through courtesy of Bay St. Louis Municipal Band.

Miss M. Walthall Here in Interest of Old Ladies' Home

Miss Maud Walthall, state representative, Old Ladies' Home, non-sectarian institution at Jackson, was in Bay St. Louis Wednesday in the interest of the institution that is housing and taking care of 85 old ladies, with 65 on the waiting list to come in. Miss Walthall states the institution is supported by public subscription, as has been done the past 27 years. But it has never been in need of funds and assistance more keenly than at the present time.

Of the eighty-five at the home twenty-seven are bed invalids, and an improvised hospital is run in connection with the home. Miss Walthall called on representatives of different local clubs and organizations, and also on members of the city council and board of supervisors. While here she was accompanied on her visits by Mrs. E. J. Gex and Mrs. Claud Monti, the first a warm personal friend of long standing and the latter, president of St. Margaret's Daughters.

Daughters of St. Margaret. Successful Benefit.

Daughters of St. Margaret, whose charities extend to all sections of the Bay-Waveland district and to the extreme ends of Hancock county, gave a card party Thursday night at Hotel Weston, which cleared $30.00. This amount was appropriated to the charity fund. The benefit was well attended and proved one of much pleasure.

Melba, the noted singer is dangerously ill in a hospital at Sydney, N. S. W., and her recovery is doubtful. She is 72 years of age.

We read in the papers that a 14-year-old boy in Long Island found home-life so dull he went out and stole an automobile. Who's to blame except his parents?

According to census figures there are three times as many widows in Alabama as there are widowers. We dare not say what we think is responsible for such a condition.

Over at Gadsden, Alabama, Virgil Stancel, a 19-year old youth, received threatening letters signed "K. K. K." Their receipt preyed on his mind to such an extent that he killed himself.

Dr. P. A. Teat, a prominent Jackson physician is in the Hinds county jail, charged with murder in connection with the death of an 18-year-old woman of Crystal Springs and her unborn infant.

The press of the State, almost without exception, is against mud-slinging by the candidates for all offices from governor down to constable, yet there will be men, who will try to get elected by such tactics.

Five Columbus high school girls who aspired to fame as movie stars started for Hollywood a few days ago, but their journey ended when a Memphis policeman put them in jail to await the arrival of their fathers.

The West Point Times-Leader makes no mistake in declaring: "More cows, more hens, more pigs, bigger and better pastures with feed crops sufficient for our needs, is the basis on which prosperity is coming back to stay."

A naval fighting plane was "tried out" at Roosevelt Field one day last week and observers claim that it attained a speed of 300 miles per hour and an altitude of 29,000 feet. The trial of the plane was witnessed by high navy and army officers.

Comic valentines were in evidence this year, just when it was hoped that mailing them had been forever discontinued. The sending of a comic valentine affords an opportunity for small souls to exhibit personal malice and venom toward the recipient of the same.

Good luck seems to be following Harvey Seal who was acquitted in this county for murdering Peterson about two years ago, was tried for bank robbery at Covington last week and acquitted. He is yet to answer to several indictments where in he and a pal are charged with burglary.

Secretary Mellon says the national treasury will face a deficit of $375,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year—and that, too, after the predicted $502,000,000 which was to pour into Uncle Sam's strong box through the raise in rates under the Smoot-Hawley tariff measure.

Carrie Elizabeth Henry, negro school teacher at Jackson, shot and killed herself. A note addressed to her mother was found by police in which she said that she "couldn't stand the worry and could not go on any longer." It is a rare thing that members of the colored race commit suicide, and when they do it is a matter of interest.

Leadville, Colorado, back in the '80s a city of many thousand people, is to have a three-day-a-week train service in the future. Millions in gold and silver were brought out of the mines in those days and fabulous fortunes made by many who flocked to the place, but today what was then a boom town is now only a flag station on the Colorado and Southern railroad.

Billie Burke, screen actress, says "a few drinks every day are worse for a woman's appearance, in the long run, than getting positively pie-eyed twice a year." We guess Billie speaks from her own experience, and she is backed up by Peggy Joyce, the much married footlights favorite, who opines that a woman who wishes to retain her good looks must "lay off high-balls and cocktails."

The reopening of banks closed recently in a number of Mississippi towns is evidence that confidence is returning and financial conditions are improving. Most folks who have money in banks are offtimes like a flock of sheep. When one gets frightened and panicky the feeling of fear spreads and a senseless run starts with withdrawal of funds and few financial institutions are able to withstand such a thing.

Senator Blaine of Wisconsin, chairman of the committee investigating leases of postoffices by the government seems determined to go to the bottom of the matter despite the refusal of Postmaster Gen. Brown to turn over to the committee records and papers needed in the inquiry. It is well known that in many instances the government has been and is continuing to pay exorbitant rentals for buildings in some cities, and the refusal of the postmaster general to give any aid to the committee leads the public to think there is something which would lead to a national scandal if the facts concerning such leases is brought to light.

NO NEED NOR ROOM FOR ANOTHER POLITICAL PARTY IN THE SOUTH.

One Howard V. Williams, executive secretary of the league for political action, in an interview given to the press in New York, declared that "the South is ripe for a new political party," basing his assertion on information he gathered on a recent trip through the South.

It seems rather strange to us that a casual visitor should have gained the impression that there is any desire for "a new political party in the South" when life-long residents of this section have neither seen nor heard anything that would indicate either a desire or need for such another political party. Therefore Mr. Williams' declaration can be classed as "a pipe dream."

In the same interview he also expressed the belief that "if Hoover were to run today he would not carry a single Southern State." No one will take issue with him on that assertion, though he might have gone further and told the country just why it was that Hoover did carry some Southern States in 1928.

What most amuses us, and will doubtless excite the risibilities of all good Democrats, is that part of Williams' interview wherein he asserts that Southern "voters have no respect for the Democratic party." It is nothing short of an insult to the intelligence and manhood of the South for him to voice such an assertion, and a more baseless falsehood never fell from the lips of mortal man. The principles of the founders of the Democratic party are held sacred by vast majority of Southern voters and the day will never come when those principles will be renounced.

There is neither need nor room for "a new political party" in this section, for the South will remain solid so long as it is opposed by the Republican organization here, constituted as it is today, dominated and under the leadership of a few pie-hunting whites and office-selling negroes.

If the "league for independent political action," for which Williams seems to chief spokesman, is seeking a fruitful field in which to launch "a new political party" with any prospect of meeting with success it will never be found in the Southern States.

DEPORTATION WOULD HELP.

Deportation of all alien criminals would go a long way toward ending the carnival of crime in the larger cities of the United States. The names of 75 per cent of the bootleggers, racketeers and dope smugglers show that they are of foreign lineage, and out of that per centage it is doubtful if a majority are not in this country without proper admittance. Uncle Sam should direct a searching investigation in an effort to rid his country of every foreign born law-breaker and whether convicted or not all such should be instantly deported.

A LITTLE TOO MUCH.

Having adopted the commission form of government, Mayor X. A. Kramer of McComb declined to accept more than $50 per month as his salary. His two associate commissioners fixed their compensation at $300 per month, but by a majority of 101 votes cast in a special election last week the taxpayers of that city decided $3,600 was just a little too much compensation, so another election will be held shortly.

A GREAT ACHIEVEMENT

Countless millions of people all over the world "listened in" when Pope Pius XI spoke over the radio last Thursday, as he opened the radio station of the Vatican City. He spoke for twelve minutes and his words came clear and distinct through the thousands of miles of ether. It was a great achievement and one which will be a treasured memory in the lives of all who heard the voice of the Holy Father.

ONLY ONE SOLUTION.

Interest on Mississippi's bonded indebtedness now amounts to two-thirds what the total cost of government was three years ago. Is it any wonder that our people are groaning under the burden of taxation. Nothing will give them relief save the election of a governor and legislature pledged to an economical and honest administration of State affairs from and after next January.

TIMES DO CHANGE.

It has now been a whole week since Louisiana's lieutenant-governor denounced the editor of Huey Long's Progress as a "common poltroon, character assassin and liar," but so far there has been no duel. In the good old days such language used by one gentleman toward another meant nothing less than "pistols and coffee for two." But "times do be changed since then."

ONE CENT A MILE.

In an effort to stimulate rail travel the Southern Pacific will try out a passenger rate of one cent a mile on its lines in seven western States. Round trip tickets on the cent a mile basis will be sold on February 20 and February 27, with a four-day return limit. The regular fare is four and one half cents per mile.

DEATH OF CHARLES DRYDEN.

The death of Charles Dryden, who died at Ocean Springs last week, removes from the list of baseball writers its most famous and colorful character. His contribution to the sports columns of American newspapers were always read with pleasure, especially those dealing with the national game.

A TERRIBLE TOLL.

Just think of it! Thirty thousand people were killed and more than 360,000 hurt in automobile accidents during 1930. That's a terrible toll to pay, but it could have all been averted had there not been careless motorists and equally careless pedestrians.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS By Chicagoan

Chicago, Ill., February 17.—Like every other reader of the Echo, I was much interested by the photographs taken by the Southern Agriculturist writer, and reproduced in last week's paper, "Roads—Scenic or Sign?" Inquired the caption on the article accompanying the illustrations, and well might the question be asked.

Looking at those illustrations, I wondered if any tourist would be induced to stop at the hotel or the tourist camp that so mutilated that tree? He wouldn't if he was a lover of natural beauty, and if he wasn't that he was missing the most of the Gulf Coast. Would any resident of the Coast country ever buy a stick of lumber from the company that thinks so little of the source of its supply that it mars trees with such unsightly signs. Not if he loved his beautiful section.

Somebody nailed a sign on one of the trees which announces that the speed limit is 35 miles per hour. I hope that was not the work of County authorities. If it was, they should now see the result of their acts, and have the sign taken down immediately.

However, all the work of the few uncultured business men of the Coast will not deter lovers of true beauty from visiting your favored section. But the impressions carried away will be ever so much more pleasant if business men and civic organizations take the advice of Editor Moreau and speedily remove all those ugly signs.

Not only do the people of the nation hie themselves to the Gulf Coast for recreation and industry, but from it they receive men and women who fill places of responsibility, serving the adopted cities well and bringing honor to the city of their birth. Last week's Echo notes with justified pride that John Osoinach, now practicing law in Ohio, has been admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the United States, the greatest judicial body in the entire world. And who can forget the renowned Marchie Schwartz?

Not so far does President Moreau of the Bay St. Louis Rotary travel this winter, but as he visits each and every club of the organization on his own Gulf Coast, he brings back to his local chapter ideas that when put into practice keep the body ever which he presides in the front ranks of the most progressive Rotary Clubs.

When the reports of his activities circulate throughout the world, the results of Officer Saucier's alertness will become even more evident than they now are. "Knights of the Road" have a peculiar underground telegraphic system whereby word of spots of danger are transmitted to each other. Most likely Mr. Saucier's name now appears on the hobo blacklist, and that he is to be just where that worthy officer wants it.

Honoring the greatest of all Americans, Bay St. Louis Legionnaires will parade and later render a program on Washington's birthday. Washington was truly great, not only because his well administered Presidency extended over a most critical period in our history. Had the Revolutionary War never been fought, and had the original colonies remained under the dominion of Great Britain, Washington might not have been such a political hero. Still he would have been a great man, despite statements made by his detractors of the past—and the present. Legionnaires honor themselves by keeping Washington's memory sacred.

Pale and Weak

"I think Cardui is a wonderful medicine, for I improved greatly after taking it," says Mrs. A. W. English, of R. F. D. 4, Roanoke, Va. "When I was just a girl of 13, my mother gave this medicine to me, and it did me a great deal of good. I was weak and run-down. After I had taken Cardui awhile, I felt much better. In 1924, my health was poor. I felt miserable, and hadn't enough strength to do my housework. It took all my willpower to keep up. I was pale and weak."

"I got Cardui again and took it. My improvement was wonderful. I can recommend Cardui to others, for my health was so much better after I had taken a course of the Cardui Home Treatment."

WASHINGTON CURRENT COMMENT

For The Sea Coast Echo.

With existing circumstances still demanding relief in many parts of country, signs of a return to normal business activity continue to appear. New England mills have taken on several thousand new hands; the Department of Agriculture promises better demand conditions for farm products during the marketing season of 1931 and 1932; and the Treasury feels that it can float a billion dollar refunding issue at an unusually low rate of interest.

[The latest development in aerial navigation is the promise of a non-stop passenger service from coast to coast. The convenience to travellers is obvious, and the Department of Commerce points out that railroads need not suffer, since there is no reason why they should not operate planes as well as surface vehicles.

It is no longer considered proper to clip the tips of a man's ears for insisting that the earth turns on its axis, but the current print shows that the vogue of rough stuff has not entirely ended. Turkey hangs twenty-eight at once, in the various places in a single town, where they argued for their peculiar political views. Slavery at present is not considered polite or profitable, yet it flourishes in Liberia to such an extent that the League of Nations thinks that "there ought to be law."

General Smedley D. Butler of the Marine Corps has been doing some talking about Mussolini. The Department of State has apologized to Italy, and it looks as though Gen. Butler would be smacked down for his indiscretion. The view of the man in the street is that although he may have been mistaken as to details, his main offense lay in calling a spade a spade. Right or wrong, the officer forgot a very useful bit of Solomon's wisdom: "Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue, keepeth his soul from troubles."

Arguments pro and con with respect to paying World War veterans their bonus, are beginning to take definite form. One side points out that the men need the money, and that the idle savings of the country are ample to buy the bonds which would have to be issued. The other side contends that settlement at this time would defeat the original purpose of the service certificate plan by robbing it of its life insurance feature, absorb capital which just now is needed in the rehabilitation of business, and upset the bond market. It has been suggested that the individual veteran does not know what is best for the country at large. Perhaps no one knows.

Prominent men who claim to know what they are talking about urge that we should not be too severe in excluding Russian-made goods on the ground that convict labor is employed in Russian production. The State Department is quoted as saying that if investigators were sent to Russia, they might be lined up against a wall and shot. If the Soviet government has something which has to be concealed by such desperate measures, it is entirely safe to assume that Russia is trying to put something over on American labor, and has motives much deeper and darker than a desire to enter into honest international competition for world trade.

Mexico has stopped payment in gold on a large national debt. What a fund of campaign material that statement would have furnished to both of the leading political parties in the United States twenty-five years ago! A new generation has arisen since 16 to 1 was a phrase having a bearing on current affairs.

A daring explorer plans to dive under the ice cap, and to the surface in the open water at the Pole. Jules Verne pictured that in Twenty Thousand Under the Sea, a book that charmed us in our youth. Men of science meet the present needs, but the ranks of the prophets must be recruited from the company of imaginative writers?

Railroad land-grants were not gifts from the Government. . .

According to an official press release issued by the War Department, the Secretary of War, in a recent address at St. Louis, said:

"Long stretches of the public land domain were freely bestowed upon the railroad companies that built our great railroads."

This statement has since been frequently repeated by others, principally by the proponents of waterways and bus transportation, with the clear implication that the land-grants were outright gifts.

Instead of being "freely bestowed," long ago such railroads as received land-grants—and many did not—compensated the Government for them, and it is still being more than amply rewarded.

To June 30, 1930, 132,173,225 acres of land, the great bulk of it lying west of the Mississippi River, had been actually certified to the interested railroads. During the twenty-year period, 1850 to 1870, when most of the grants were made, the average price received by the Government for land sold to others was 94c an acre. In other words, the railroads received title to land worth, in the aggregate, $124,242,831; but, in return, the land-grant lines are required, under the law, to handle Government troops, munitions of war, and other Government freight, at rates substantially lower than commercial rates, and United States mail at 80% of the standard or authorized rates. Because of these reductions, the actual monetary saving to the Government now averages about $5,000,000 per year. Moreover, other competing railroads that did not receive land-grants were, and are, likewise subjected to these reduced rates, which serves to increase further the Government saving.

It is seen, therefore, that the value of the land is repaid to the Government, at the least, every twenty-five years.

Not only has the Government already been handsomely repaid—more than once—for every acre of land turned over to the land-grant lines, but payment, under the law, will continue indefinitely.

The railroads built this country, and railroad transportation must remain the backbone of industry. Give them a square deal. They are asking for nothing more.

N. Y. Woman Lost 14 Pounds of Fat

One 85 Cent Bottle of Kruschen Salts Did It

"I am starting on my second bottle of Kruschen Salts and am real pleased and so far have lost 14 pounds and I think it is doing wonders for me. I do not feel so tired evenings when I get home from work."

A generous bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents at the Atlas Drug Store, Bay St. Louis, or Waveland Drug Company, Waveland, Miss., or any drug store in America—take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—that will help Kruschen take off your fat.

Before the bottle is empty surplus fat is leaving you—indolence changes to activity—you'll feel younger—eyes will brighten—step grows spry. Millions know this—you ought to know Kruschen Salts is the ideal treatment for constipation, indigestion, headaches, nervousness and acidity.

Take Kruschen every morning—it's the little daily use that does it—if not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

FOREST SERVICE NEWS

"First Steps in Southern Forest Study," the textbook prepared by the State Forestry Commission and adopted by the Textbook Commission as a basic text for use in the eighth grade, is receiving excellent reviews by out-of-state organizations.

Mr. L. C. Everard, editor, American Association of Museums, writes: "Though the subtitle is 'First Steps in Southern Forest Study,' Mrs. D. P. Edgerton's book, 'Southern Forests' goes a long way into the subject of what forests are and what they mean to people. An introductory section outlines the contribution of forests to the economic and social progress of the United States. There is also a paragraph on the different forest regions of the country and one on the migratory character of the lumber industry in the past, and several pages on the importance of southern forests. The main body of the book is cast in the form of four lessons, one each on the individual tree, the forest as a tree community, the products and influences of the forest, and the forests of the world and their conservation."

"The book provides adequate and authentic study material, presented in such form as to fit in harmoniously with school curricula of the present day. It has in addition a lot of ingenious suggestions for use both in and out of the classroom and bears evidence throughout of the author's practical acquaintance with forestry teaching in the public schools. Mrs. Edgerton now and then indulges her liking for metaphor, and in some instances, such as the section on foreign forests, passes along quickly where an other might place emphasis, or vice versa."

Mr. G. H. Collingwood, Forester for the American Forestry Association, says: "This book was written to fill a very real need, for when the State of Mississippi passed a law to include forestry in the subjects to be taught in the public schools, there was no available book which quite met the need. Fortunately Mrs. Edgerton's varied experience enabled her to prepare a book of adequate scope and very real charm. Pupils for whom reading is difficult will be drawn on to read the descriptions of the many attractive pictures and then go into the text."

Bees Like Forest Protection
An interesting result of forest fire protection is reported by Mr. Peter Mallette, who lives in that portion of Harrison County now protected by the Mississippi Forest Service and co-operating landowners. Mr. Mallette says that since forest protection has become effective in his part of the county, the average annual production of his bees has increased from ten pounds of honey per colony to about ninety pounds per hive. This means an increase from $2 per hive to $18 per hive.

King Pine Sought
A Michigan resident wishes to locate a tree called the King Pine of the South. He says that he saw this famous tree while passing through Mississippi. The Forest Service will appreciate any information concerning the tree, and no doubt some member of a Woman's Club would also like to enter it in the Historic Tree Contest which the Federation is now conducting.

MOUNTAIN POET OF NORTH CAROLINA SHOWS GENIUS

In the beautiful mountain country in the state of North Carolina in the little town of Bloomer, is living a man who, but for the ironic turns of fate, might today be one of our most famous poets. The townspeople and the "folks" living in the surrounding country call him the Mountain Poet of North Carolina, and although he is comparatively unknown to the outside world, those who have read his poetry see in him talents and abilities approaching literary genius. His name is James Larkin Pearson. The story of his life is a mixture of success and misfortune—success first as the publisher of a popular monthly magazine with a circulation of 50,000 or more, and then during the World War, when his magazine circulation suffered, misfortune dogged at his heels and turned his venture into a failure. Meanwhile, his wife had become a chronic invalid. Mr. Pearson has had a number of his poems accepted by the New York Times and not long ago published a book of poems, which, unfortunately, he is in no financial position to advertise or push its sale. There are many fine poems in it, but only a few can be given here. Here they are:

THE POETRY FOR ME

The kind of poetry for me
Has got to have an apple-tree,
All blossomed out with white an' pink.

Joint Meeting Of Gulf Coast K. Of C. Meeting Here Next Month

The regular monthly meeting of the Knights of Columbus was held on Sunday night, February 15.

It was a record breaking meeting—one of the largest held in the history of the council.

It is very gratifying to the officers to see such interest displayed in Columbianism.

Many interesting matters were discussed. The two important matters discussed were, the Laymen's Retreat and the joint quarterly meeting of the Gulf Coast Councils.

From the interest displayed in the Laymen's Retreat which opens on June 26th it looks like a large attendance from the council and others will attend.

The joint quarterly meeting of the Gulf Coast K. of C. will be held in Bay St. Louis in the latter part of March or early part of April, and from all indications a very large delegation is expected from the other Gulf Coast Councils.

PRAYER FOR GOVERNOR BILBO

(J. F. Dorroh, in The Columbus Dispatch.)

Lord God of Jackson and of Lee,
Of Washington and Lafayette,
Of all who strove to make us free,
And fight to guard that freedom yet—
Lord, Truth has fallen, Justice flown,
And base Misrule is on the throne.

The demagogue and partisan

Grasp in their ruthless hands our fate,
And hold the welfare of their clan

God of Yorktown and Bunker
Hill,
Help us to guard our freedom
still.

Our higher institutions bow
Before the mandates of a fool!
With soul so small he knows not how
To rightly reason or to rule.

A would-be Caesar; and with all
A Caesar's cheek—Hail, King of Gall!

Lord, 'tis men, strong men, we need
Not those the slaves of petty hate;
Men small of soul, but large of greed
Who serve themselves and not the state.

God of our father, purge us
then
Of little breeds, of little men.

Lord, if they know not what they do
Open their eyes that they may see;
Till Philip false be Philip true,
And they no more shall bow the knee.

To this tin god! This would-be Nero!
This little nothing, minus zero!

Preparations For the Forthcoming Catholic Laymen's Annual Retreat

The committee is making rapid progress in the coming Retreat.

Sub-ordinate chairmen have been appointed in all of the important cities in the State, and from the interest displayed thus far the committee looks for a record breaking attendance.

Word was received from his Lordship Right Rev. Bishop Gerow that the Retreat will open on Friday night June 26, and close on Monday morning June 29th.

Charles A. Gordon, No. 121 Union Street, chairman of the Laymen's Retreat Committee will be glad to furnish any information desired concerning the Retreat.

NOW IS THE TIME TO TELL HIM.

If with pleasure you are viewing any work a man is doing,

If you like him, if you love him, tell him now;

Don't withhold your approbation till the parson makes oration

And he lies with snowy lilies on his brow.

For no matter if you shout it, he won't really care about it,

He won't know how many tears drops you have shed;

If you think some praise is due him, now's the time to slip it to him,

For he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead.

MAKING A MOTION.

In one of the towns of the Pacific Coast a distinct earthquake shock was felt recently, and when the municipal building rocked perceptibly the city fathers, then in session, left without bothering about the usual formulas.

The clerk, a man of rules and regulations, was hard put to it to give his minutes the proper official tone. Finally he evolved this masterpiece:

"On motion of the city hall, the council adjourned."

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

AS TO FIRE PROTECTION.

Editor Sea Coast Echo:

Would you allow me a little space in your valuable paper to ask a few questions?

On Wednesday, last week some malicious son of a gun set fire to heavy woods opposite my home. This fire threatened, home, barn, in fact all implements and strong wind blowing from North at time direct to home, which made matters worse.

The roar of this immense fire sounded like a freight train pulling and flames about ten feet high. I having only one man and myself to fight this blaze and knowing if the wind continued from same quarter for ten or twenty minutes longer, improvements which took about a half century to build would go up in smoke. Thought it wise to call fire department out from Bay St. Louis so that we would be protected, but fire department failed to come out, saying there was no water to fight this fire.

There are three ponds here holding about three million gallons of water, sufficient to quench a fire in a small village. We cannot praise or thank Mr. Claude Monti enough for his promptness in gathering a large crowd of gentlemen together and coming out in his own car immediately after receiving the word to help us out.

About five years ago there was an awful fire just in this same locality. Where this fire started, set by some ungrateful fire bug, it destroyed the old Robert Gulach place, also lots of valuable timber and lumber belonging to myself. That year Mr. Monti rushed out with the whole fire outfit, the kind brothers from St. Stanislaus and a good crowd of college boys. Road was under construction at that time and those dear fellows had a hard time getting out here had to drive through the woods, but they were on the spot to help one out in time of trouble. What I would like to know is this a new rule, not allowing the fire department to come out only four miles of town, good roads all the way, or was the last administration more humane?

Also should some ungrateful fire bug set fire in my pasture again, with aim to destroy a fine group of pines which I am trying to raise and home and improvements were threatened again? I wonder if it would be useless to call Bay St. Louis fire department?

Respectfully yours,

ALBERT BROWN.

What I would like to know is this a new rule, not allowing the fire department to come out only four miles of town, good roads all the way, or was the last administration more humane?

Also should some ungrateful fire bug set fire in my pasture again, with aim to destroy a fine group of pines which I am trying to raise and home and improvements were threatened again? I wonder if it would be useless to call Bay St. Louis fire department?

SPORTS AT STANISLAUS

Stanislaus gained a decisive victory over the McGill Yellow Jackets Sunday afternoon to the tune of 40-20. The first quarter was given entirely to the Rock-A-Chaws. McGill seemed bewildered until the middle of the second half and then did not show special progress. The Rocks scored steadily during the second quarter and the defensive and offensive play of the Jackets a lot of worry. The half ended with the Rocks in the lead. McGill played better ball during the second half and showed very good defensive work. They could not down the heavy onslaught of the Rocks offense, however, and the boys in red kept dropping them in. The game ended with the Rocks still going strong and the final tally 40-20, gave them revenge for that 14-9 defeat they suffered at the hands of the Jackets over in their hometown of Mobile.

FIFTH GRADE WINS 65 INCH CHAMPIONSHIP.

Last week instead of the regular league games the smaller boys in the Junior yard played in a 65 inch elimination contest.

Monday afternoon the 5th Grade was picked to meet the Fourth grade. They had their hands full but won by the score of 8-2.

Tuesday afternoon the 5th Grade defeated the 6th grade by a 34-8 score. The game was interesting as the score was close until the fourth period.

Wednesday afternoon the 7th Grade determined to overwhelm the 5th grade but over confidence may have been the reason why the 7th grade lost by a 35-16 score.

The final game was played Friday afternoon and a big crowd witnessed the undefeated 5th grade walk away with the 8th Grade team. The score was 20-9. The second half witnessed some dandy guarding as neither team scored a field goal.

Archie Crump captained the 5th grade.

Seuzeneau captained the 4th.

Billy Moss captained the 6th.

James Henry captained the 7th.

Edward Anderson captained the 8th.

A COMPLETE REPLY.

An exchange prints a little story, clipped from an unknown source, which is very good and perhaps also very old. Anyway, it is worth repeating.

It concerns an Omaha wholesaler house and a customer merchant in an Iowa cross-roads town. A shipment of goods received by the customer was rejected as unsatisfactory.

The wholesaler prepared to institute suit for collection, and wrote to the railroad agent at the village for information about the arrival of the merchandise; to the president of the bank for information concerning financial standing of their customer; to the mayor of the city asking him to recommend a good lawyer to handle their case; and to the merchant himself, threatening suit, if he did not make payment at once. This reply was received:

"I received your letter telling me I had better pay up.

"I am the railroad agent here and received the letter you wrote about the shipment.

"I am the president and sole owner of the local bank and can assure you as to my financial standing.

"As the mayor of the city, I hesitate to refer you to a lawyer, since I am the only member of the bar in this vicinity.

"If I were not the pastor of the only church here, I would tell you to go to hell!"

DR. ADRIAN HAVA ON MONOXIDE

Discusses Cause of Death From Automobile Exhaust Gas.

Cigarette smokers should beware of inhaling monoxide of carbon poisoning; they should not inhale of draw back the fumes; they should not rel the smoke, then there is no harm, says Dr. Adrian Hava, well known physician, and authority on monoxide of carbon poisoning. To a reporter of the New Orleans States, Dr. Hava gave a most interesting interview on "Deaths caused by exhaust gas from automobiles and cooking or illuminating gas."

BY ADRIAN HAVA, M. D. PH. D.

The large number of deaths caused by exhaust gas from automobiles, and cooking or illuminating gas is due to poisoning by Monoxide of Carbon.

The hemoglobin of the blood is an oxygen carrier to the tissues where it is dioxigenated after it gets rid of its oxygen, it takes up from the tissue carbonic acid which it brings to the lungs to be eliminated. This is the natural function of the hemoglobin in health. But, as the hemoglobin has greater affinity for monoxide of carbon than it has for its normal oxygen combination, when the monoxide of carbon combines with the hemoglobin of the blood producing a chemical condition in the hemoglobin preventing it from absorbing oxygen and retaining the monoxide of carbon, even when this altered blood is brought back to the lungs for its normal oxygenation. In other words, it produces a condition of necrosis or inactive blood. There is fortunately a gas, ammonia, which has a stronger affinity for the monoxide of carbon than has the hemoglobin. Whenever ammonia gas enters through the lungs and comes in contact with the poisoned blood containing monoxide of carbon, the ammonia gas having a greater affinity robs the monoxide of carbon from the blood, leaving the blood free to absorb oxygen again to perform its normal function.

Effect of Monoxide.

The hemoglobin has 250 times greater affinity for monoxide of carbon which is contained in exhaust gas, than it has for its normal oxygen. Ammonia gas (Aqua Ammonia) has 300 times greater affinity for the monoxide of carbon than the hemoglobin has.

In a normal man at rest the tissues of the human body consume one-third of the oxygen which the blood brings to the tissues. During muscular exertion two-thirds of the oxygen is utilized.

Accordingly, a man at rest may become one-third saturated with the poisonous monoxide of carbon, without realizing that anything is wrong. A man at leisure who breathes air containing one percent of the poisonous monoxide of carbon may live thirty or four hours before death takes place. When the percentage of the poisonous monoxide of carbon in the air is four to five percent, or more, the sudden effect of a few breaths of air containing this percentage drawn into the lung may produce death as quickly as in drowning.

This is what happens when a man enters the closed garage where his automobile has been left running for some time.

Carbon monoxide gas is colorless, almost odorless and the specific gravity is near that of the air. It is non-irritating when inhaled.

Safe Remedy.

When a person becomes the victim of monoxide of carbon poisoning and is still alive when found, he should immediately be removed into the open air, artificial respiration performed, and the fumes of ammonia gas (Aqua Ammonia) used. A cloth saturated with Aqua Ammonia should be swayed to and fro about six or eight inches from the nostrils, so that the air inhaled should be mixed with the fumes of ammonia gas. This operation should be continued until the patient revives, after which the patient himself should continue to inhale air saturated with ammonia as above indicated until all the symptoms of monoxide of carbon intoxication have passed away, otherwise different forms of paralysis may take place.

The pulmonary should be used only by experts as it often produces traumatic pneumonia.

When the ammonia gas removes the carbon monoxide from the blood, within an hour it should restore the oxygen carrying power of the hemoglobin within three or four hours in order not to have any complication taking place.

Monoxide of carbon is responsible for a great many nervous diseases. Cigarette smokers who inhale or draw back the fumes of slow combustion, containing the poisonous monoxide of carbon slowly poisons the hemoglobin of the blood and in the course of time which may be years depending upon the quantity of poison smoke inhaled, produces injurious effects upon the fourth ventricle in the brain and the poison cripples the nuclei from which the bilateral cardiac nerve originates and presides over the function of the heart which may become later on organic. Smoking without inhaling can not produce any ill effects.

An ammonia gas (the fumes of Aqua Ammonia) is the anti-toxin to this common form of poisoning, every person owning an automobile should have in his car and in his garage (also in every bath room and kitchen) a well protected bottle of Aqua Ammonia (26 volumes is the best) with a rubber stopper as the ordinary cork stopper can not be used, being easily destroyed by ammonia.

It was years after experimenting with all sorts of gases before I found out that ammonia gas has a greater affinity for monoxide of carbon from the poisoned blood, leaving the hemoglobin free to absorb its oxygen again.

The above is the result of fourteen years of experiments (1880 to 1894) with chemically pure monoxide of carbon gas as will more fully appear in the New Orleans Medical Journal, April 1, 1894, by the writer. These experiments were made on dogs, pigs, rabbits, guinea pigs and rats. All these animals were first rendered unconscious by monoxide of carbon gas inhalation, and revived by the inhalation of ammonia gas administered in the manner above described. During these experiments I, myself, became poisoned by monoxide of carbon, but was fortunate to know the antidote.

SOUTHWEST TEXAS'S HISTORY TELLS OF CONQUESTS BUT ONE

Civilization's Strong Arm of Law Has Curbed Outlaws, Bandits, Etc., But Not The Rattlesnake.

By JOHN T. MEYERS For The Sea Coast Echo.

The pages of Southwest Texas's history are filled with hair-raising tales of killings, plunder, and destruction at the hands of famous outlaws. Today, their death-dealing six-shooters are mostly silenced by civilization's strong arm of the law.

While in its westward trek civilization has successfully coped with human outlaws and bad men, the deadly diamond-back rattlesnake, a time-old enemy of mankind in the west, still holds undisputed sway as the unconquered outlaw of plains and hills of southwest Texas.

In spite of serious efforts on the part of ranchmen and others to exterminate the "rattler," this snake remains, as ever, a source of great annoyance and danger to human life, and likewise a menace to horses, cattle and other ranch stock, and wild game as well.

Rattlesnakes have been killed hereabouts measuring from six to eight feet in length, and having the thickness of a man's arm. The rattlesnake is said to exist on prairie rats, ground squirrels, cotton tail rabbits, and other small game life.

This dreaded snake does not attack mankind unless disturbed or molested, it seems. Even then this reptile outlaws reputed "give warning before striking its deadly blow. And what a distinct and unmistakable warning it is! The singing rattle sound of an angered diamond-back rattlesnake, soon crushing the bravest heart sense a fear for personal safety. If one cannot see the snake when the warning is heard the situation is decidedly more terrifying and serious. To move a few steps in the wrong direction might mean stepping into the path of an agonizing death.

The rattlesnake is said to inject his poison by means of two hollow, needle-like fangs projecting downward from the upper jaw. A sack at the base of the fangs contains the poison, and the method of operation is said to be similar to a hypodermic needle. A "rattler," when coiled, can strike a victim nearly their length's distance away. A large snake hits with such a force that a man is knocked off balance, ranchmen report.

When one is mounted, the horse can usually detect the unwelcome presence of a "rattler." The animal becomes almost unmanageable, so eager is he to get out of the snake's path. And any coaxing or persuasion is of no avail until he is out of danger zone.

Because of the ever possible danger from snake bites, ranchers and cowboys are compelled to wear leather boots, and the characteristic leather chaps. On the range this leather costume also offers protection against cactus thorns, and the poisonous thorns from the misquie tree. Some veterans of range and saddle have scars that tend to prove a big "rattler" can sometimes reach his mark even through leather. However, after passing through this protection much of the poison's effectiveness has been lost, it is claimed.

As dangerous a problem as the outlaw "rattler" may be, he is not without natural enemies. In his Texas haunts amid the cactus, Spanish dagger, century plant, and misquie growth, the rattlesnake meets a deadly foe in the form of a huge black snake, a species of the Boaconstrictor. This snake is from six to eight or more feet in length. Locally, it is called the Frio snake. This black snake is not very numerous, but when it comes in contact with a "rattler," it quickly entwines its powerful body about the rattlesnake, soon crushing the opponent to death. It is said that the black snake is immune to the poison of the "rattlers' fangs. The Frio globe free to absorb its oxygen again.

snake is harmless to mankind. Still another natural enemy is claimed to be the "Road Runner" or "Chararral Cock" as this wild fowl-like bird is called in southwest Texas. Ranchmen claim that this bird flutters round and round the furiously mad "rattler" playing for an opportune moment, when, quick as a flash, it makes a dash at the snake's head, picking it to death with its strong and sharp bill.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL NOTES OF WEEK FROM WAVELAND AND VICINITY

V. E. WEBER Box 134
Waveland, Miss.

The P-T. A. have finished the planting of shrubs and flowers, around the grounds of the new public school building, and with the new rest room and ornamental, fencing, with massive brick columns, at the entrance, now under construction, the people of Waveland will have something of which they will feel justly proud.

In keeping with the trend of modern progress, the Waveland Drug Company has installed expensive precision pumps in their fountain. It is said this equipment will make a uniform drink, approved by the leading syrup manufacturers of the country. The Waveland Drug Company is wide awake and up-to-date and going to the front rapidly, which makes one feel like coming back again.

During the past week several parties have been investigating the possibilities of locating a bakery here. It seems strange that so many business people have overlooked such an opportunity for so long a time. Let us hope that the best man will be the first to enter the field and reap the golden harvest.

A large metal sign will soon be placed at intersection of Waveland avenue and U. S. 90, directing traffic thru Waveland to Bay St. Louis. This will afford the tourist an opportunity of visiting the most beautiful part of Hancock County.

Mr. Chas. Sauer is building a wharf and contemplates moving his house to the beach.

It has been reported that several large homes have been sold during the past week. The names of the purchasers have not been given out, but the Agent stated that at least one, a retired business man will become a permanent resident. Our people never frown on this type of investor, and we bid him welcome.

The Valentine dance given by the St. Claire Altar Society was a huge success and the hall was crowded to capacity.

Gross receipts were $122.75. The ladies of the Altar Society wish to thank the public for their generous support in this worthy cause. They also wish to thank the Ladies who donated and took an active part in making this affair such a success.

The teachers of Waveland school gave a Valentine party to their pupils. Refreshments were served and valentines were exchanged to the delight of the children.

The worthy and capable teachers of this school, are always looking forward to promote the welfare and pleasure of their pupils.

Hon. Geo. T. Herlihy with his sister, Mrs. Dan Chadwick and little daughters, Catherine, Louise and Amelia motored to New Orleans for Carnival.

PASS CHRISTIAN HAS SUCCESSFUL BENEFIT SUPPER By Vestrymen of and For Benefit Trinity Episcopal Church—Lt. Governor Present.

A series of benefit Sunday night suppers at Pass Christian for the benefit of Trinity Episcopal Church, serve both as a medium of profit and social intercourse, each event of the kind seemingly growing in popularity and adding to the treasury.

Sunday night past members of the church vestry gave a supper, that proved a most delightful affair and to which there was a goodly attendance, the supper served at the Episcopal rectory, in Second Street and extending over a period of from 6 to 8 o'clock.

Lt. Governor Bidwell Adams, member of the vestry, was present and served in the capacity of head waiter, while other members of the vestry donned white coats and served on the tables, a feature that proved of mirth and service. Vestrymen included L. L. Saucier, Edgar Bohn, Tom Schorr, Carey Spence, L. S. Elliott, Charles Hurley, Audley Taylor, Stanley Taylor and Bidwell Adams.

Among the ladies assisting in general capacity were Mrs. Luther H. Barksdale, Mrs. Bidwell Adams, Mrs. Justine LaSabe and others. Rev. Robt. W. Grubb, Christ Episcopal church, Bay St. Louis, who has been filling the pulpit during the absence of the rector, since the departure of Rev. Aldrich, who resigned on account of ill health, was noted among those present.

The new rector, Rev. Jones, who recently accepted a call, is shortly expected and will assume active charge of the parish.

Among those noted at the supper were: Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Northrop, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Terrell, Mr. and Mrs. Carey Spence, Mr. and Bidwell Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Elliott of Bay St. Louis, Mr. E. J. Adams, Sr., Mr. Fred Sutter, Mr. Audley Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sherman, Miss Tibbler, Mrs. Stanley Taylor and father, Dr. Blaine of New Orleans, Miss Hazel Abbley, Miss Jane Lang, Mr. and Mrs. Luther H. Barksdale and daughter, Mary Beth, Mr. and Mrs. Will Adams, Mrs. Peggy Gause, Mrs. Hazel Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Schorr, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Prest, Miss Naomi and Katherine Saucier, Mr. Lamar Saucier, Mr. A. E. Saucier, and others.

Pass Christian Negro Woman Dies at Age of 101

Eliza McCray, 101 years old, a colored woman, died at Pass Christian Saturday. She had resided at Pass Christian since 1861, having been brought to Pass Christian from North Carolina by Miss Christian McPherson, a great aunt of John H. Lang. As a slave she was body servant to Miss McPherson. She was buried at Pass Christian Sunday with marked attention.

STANISLAUS COLLEGE ECHOES

SODALITY MEETING, FEBRUARY 14, 1931.

Invited by President Dongett, Bro. Peter explained to all Sodality members, just what Vocation Week means. Not only does a vocation mean a call from God to the Religious life but it means following any profession which the Almighty has "picked" for each one. Therefore, the week of February 16 to the 22, is set aside for praying that no one may miss his vocation.

WE WONDER WHY?

Jack Horne likes Bridge parties. A certain person is called "denatured carbon dioxide." Colotta prefers blondes. Who the great athlete from Pine Bluff is. Locke and Red Reine are called "Pig Squeezers."

Nick Baquet is always singing "Three Little Words." Phil Jacobs is called "Beans." Yalets is so dumb. La Cour is called the "Dreamer." Gene Lyons got so many comic valentines.

Colotta and Posner were in heaven Saturday afternoon. Pudlin wants his name in the paper. Judlin is called Rudy Valle. Bobby Labry is so absent minded. Johnson says, "I'm falling too." Petrich likes to read "Alice in Wonderland."

Jimmy Dam is waiting for Tuesday. Posner is so bashful. Genard would like to go back to the hospital.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF LAND.

Whereas Rod B. Mitchell and Elmita T. Mitchell husband and wife executed a Deed of Trust conveying to Geo. R. Rea as Trustee, certain land situated in Hancock County, State of Mississippi, to secure an indebtedness owing by them to the Peoples Building & Loan Association, which Deed of Trust is dated February 10th, 1928; and recorded in Vol. No. 23, pages 36-38, Records of Mortgages and Deeds of Trust on land in said Hancock County, in which Deed of Trust the land is described as the land, with its rights and appurtenances, situated in Hancock County, State of Mississippi, and described as follows, to-wit: That lot designated as the East 50 feet of Lot 42, Second Ward, as per an official map of said City made by E. S. Drake, C. E., filed in the office of the Clerk of the Chancery Court of said County, on May 1, 1923. Said lot has a frontage of 50 feet on the South line of Main Street and extends back between parallel lines, on a course S. 20 degrees W. 200 feet, more or less. Bounded on the East by land of Robert W. Touline, and West by land of Millard E. Touline, being the identical land conveyed by Millard E. Touline and wife to the said Rod B. Mitchell, by deed dated Oct. 1, 1924, recorded in Vol. D-6, pages 303-304, Records of Deeds of said Hancock County.

Whereas default has been made in the payment of said indebtedness, and whereas the said Geo. R. Rea has declined to act as such Trustee, said Association, under the authority of said Deed of Trust, has appointed the undersigned W. V. Yates, as Substituted Trustee, which Substitution is dated Feb. 6, 1931 and recorded in Vol. No. 26, pages 324-325, Records of Mortgages and Deeds of Trust on land in said Hancock County the said Association has requested the undersigned to duly execute said Deed of Trust according to its terms, by a sale of the property therein described.

Now therefore notice is hereby given that the undersigned, Substituted Trustee, will sell the above described property at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, before the front door of the Hancock County Court House, in the City of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, within legal hours, for the purpose of paying said indebtedness and costs on

Prosperity Always Follows

Times are hard. On every hand we see evidence which, to our troubled minds, indicates a permanent end to prosperity. We are so close to our own perplexities we fail to realize that they are the result of but a single swing of the economic pendulum which will again retrace its path to prosperity as it has done so many times in the past.

For our own peace of mind and as an antidote for the many weird theories about causes and cures which are always advanced in such times as this, we should read carefully the following extracts from the essays of the great Macaulay, written in 1820.

"The present moment is one of great distress. But how small will that distress appear when we think over the history of the last forty years—a war compared with which all other wars sink into insignificance—taxation such as the most heavily taxed people of former times could not have conceived—a debt larger than all the public debts that ever existed in the world added together—* yet is the country poorer than in 1790?

"If we were to prophesy that in the year 1930 a population of fifty millions, better fed, clad, and lodged than the English of our time will cover these islands—* that machines, constructed on principles yet undiscovered, will be in every house—that there will be no highways but railroads, no traveling but by steam—* many people would think us insane.

"We prophesy nothing; but we say—if any person had told the Parliament which met in perplexity and terror after the crash of 1720 that in 1830 the wealth of England would surpass all their wildest dreams; * that men would sail without wind, and would be beginning to ride without horses—our ancestors would have given as much credit to the prediction as they gave to Gulliver's Travels. ****

"Hence this, that though in every age, everybody knows that up to his own time progressive improvement has been taking place, nobody seems to reckon on any improvement during the next generation. We cannot absolutely prove that those are in error who tell us that society has reached the turning point—that we have seen our best days. But so said all who came before us—with just as much apparent reason. ****

"Our rulers will best promote the improvement of the people by strictly confining conditions to their own legitimate duties—by leaving capital to find its most lucrative courses, commodities their fair price; industry and intelligence their natural reward. idleness and folly their natural punishment—by maintaining peace, defending property, by diminishing the price of law and observing strict economy in every department of the state.

"Let the government do this—the people will assuredly do the rest."

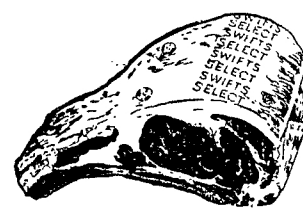

So wrote one of the world's greatest thinkers over a hundred years ago. So, undoubtedly, will some unborn genius write again a hundred years hence.

Supper Wednesday

Women's Benevolent Association entertained quite a large number of friends last Wednesday evening at Hotel Manieri when a chicken spaghetti supper was served from 7 to 10 o'clock, this the second of a series and which proved a bigger success than the first. The sum of one hundred and three dollars was netted.

A feature of the evening, and one proving of more than ordinary interest was the exhibition of some thirty silhouettes representing that many candidates in both county and city elections for 1931. Every guest who corrected the full list correctly was awarded a token for his or her cleverness.

W. B. A. organization management is amassing an amount in order to defray expenses of a large number of delegates to the forthcoming national convention to be held in Chicago.

Mr. Glynn is the ever courteous and accommodating Gulf Coast resident delivery representative for Maison Blanche department store at New Orleans and is equally as jubilant as if it were the family's first born.

—The beauty of that FLOWER GARDEN assured if you use Wizard Sheep Manure. The Atlas Drug Store can supply you in any quantity from five pounds up.

—Mayor Traub and Commissioners have by proclamation, published elsewhere in this issue of The Echo, declared Monday, February 23, a public holiday in Bay St. Louis, since the local Legion Post will commemorate that day with appropriate public parade and auspicious ceremonies. The Legion is to be commended in celebrating the day in the manner planned and for the public.

—Many visitors, lovers of the beautiful, these days find way to the home of Miss Annette Koch near Logtown, where camellia bushes of tree-like proportions, are covered with a literal mantle of gorgeous blossoms, well worth the journey and effort. Miss Koch's famous azalea trees, the largest known hereabouts, bloom at a later time; to where pilgrimages are made from all sections of the immediate sections of the three states.

—Plant a flower garden. The seed are sold by the ATLAS DRUG STORE. You should see the mammoth variety display on the center counter in the store. They can also give you information as to arrangement of beds and assortment of seed to plant to obtain a wonderful color scheme.

—Mrs. D. H. Boyle, who is spending part of the winter in New Orleans visiting her younger son, came out for the day a few days since and reports her intention of rebuilding part of the Tulane Hotel recently destroyed by fire. In addition to the lower floor, which will be used as her home, Mrs. Boyle plans to build four complete apartments on the forepart of the upper story. Smith & Norwood, architects, are completing the plans, and the work will be let on receipt of copies of the drawings.

—Clayton Rand, well-known Gulfport publisher and Leo Simpson, business man of the same city as Rotarians attended the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club luncheon-meeting Wednesday at Hotel Weston. Other Rotarians visiting were J. M. Terrell, and Frank French, of Pass Christian.

—Rand recently returned from a trip over the Tennessee, Tennessee, Arkansas and adjacent territory that covered seven thousand miles, visiting the drought-stricken section. He says none of it has been overcolored. Conditions are most tense.

—Edward D. Murtagh, formerly of Bay St. Louis, and well-known architect who has lots of work in and around Bay St. Louis, and the sympathy of many local friends and acquaintances on the occasion of the death of his wife, Miss Carrie D. Dietzman, before her marriage. Her death occurred Saturday. She was a native of New Orleans, aged 31 years and is survived by a son and daughter.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leo Murtagh were among the attendants from Bay St. Louis at the last sad obsequies, which occurred Sunday afternoon.

—Like the balance of the Gulf Coast, many camellia bushes are now in the glory of annual blossoming in and around Bay St. Louis, and a trip over the city reveals many varieties in various shades and sizes, however, all beautiful and winning the admiration of all who view them. Perhaps at no place are larger and more attractive species found than at the home of Mr. Cyril (Pat) Ladner and his sisters, in Citizen street. The flowers are of extra large expanse, of striped white and old rose pink with heavy stamens of chrome yellow centers. The combination of colors is striking.

'BEAU IDEAL' SEQUEL TO 'BEAU GESTE' AT A. & G. THIS SUNDAY

"Beau Ideal" which will be at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday, Feb. 22 and 23, is a sequel in kind and spirit to the silent classic "Beau Geste." This new one is called "Beau Ideal" after Percival Wren's novelized continuation of his first tale of the brave Geste, and it has been directed by Herbert Brenon whose genius produced "Beau Geste."

Vivid Screen Drama.
A handsome, thrilling and intensely vivid picture of the concluding chapters in the story of the Geste, "Beau Ideal" is fine robust entertainment and certainly as thrilling if not more so than "Beau Geste." Mr. Brenon is among the first ten great directors of the screen and "Beau Ideal" does much to enhance that reputation. It is a stirring picture played enormously well and with shrewd, knowing players in its cast. Headed by Ralph Forbes, who created the role of John Geste in "Beau Geste," the same part he takes in "Beau Ideal," the cast includes Loretta Young as Isabel Brandon, Irene Rich, Lester Vail, Leni Stengel, Don Alvarado and others many of whom appeared in the silent "Beau Geste."

The story takes us back to Morocco again and to the fierce savagery of the Arab hordes, to the courageous Foreign Legion, to the alluring dangers of the secret cities of the desert, to pungent battle drama and poignant emotional drama. In "Beau Ideal" you will find all the ingredients of a thoughtful and well-executed drama of "special" proportions, a real screen achievement and one you should not miss.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our midst our beloved brother, Sovereign Frederic Bandeter,

Therefore be it resolved that Cedar Grove Camp No. 507, Woodmen of the World, has lost one of its best, truest and most loyal members; that as a charter member of this Camp he felt an abiding interest in its welfare and ever strove to promote that fraternal feeling which should be the aim of every true Woodman. We shall sadly miss his genial companionship and helpful interest in all matters pertaining to the upbuilding of our great organization, and while we deeply mourn his untimely death we feel that his record as written by his life and actions as a husband and father and citizen entitled him the favor of a just and merciful God. Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the Camp's minutes and a copy be furnished to the family of our deceased Sovereign.

A. R. HART,

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

DEAR OLD HOLY FATHER SPEAKS.

The whole High School assembled around the radio in the basement of S. J. A. last Thursday morning to hear the voice of Our Holy Father, the Pope which was being broadcast to the entire world. Those of us who know a little Latin could catch a few words here and there as our Holy Father delivered his message, but whether we understood or not all of us were struck by the vibrant tones and wonderful sweetness of the voice of our beloved Pontiff.

Never before had we so fully appreciated what a wonderful invention the radio is, as when we sat there listening to the voice of one whom the majority of us never dreamed of hearing, and here we were quietly seated in our little Bay St. Louis City while he was speaking to us from the Vatican thousands of miles away.

BLUE MONDAY.

Besides being the first day of the week and if itself blue, Monday of this week was exceptionally gloomy owing to the awful rain which poured heavily all the day. Besides the bad weather it was the eve of Mardi Gras and some of the more fortunate among us had succeeded in going to New Orleans for the Carnival festivities and had declared Monday a holiday for themselves. Those of us who were left behind could not help envying our lucky classmates a little, and many were the wishes expressed that we too could be enjoying the fun instead of plodding through our classes.

"He who laughs last, laughs best" we are told, and the Blue Monday which we spent working away at school may serve us in good stead at the end of the year when Examinations are in progress or when rewards are being given for one hundred per cent attendance.

VALENTINES.

Valentine Day has just passed and in its trail flutters a shower of hearts and frilly lace valentines. Boxes of candy and comic valentines also puzzle the convent girls and they wonder to themselves, "Now who could have sent this one? Isn't it darling?"

Cupid seems to have been keeping the post office busy but I'm sure that he knew nothing about the "comics" or else he is teaching girls a lesson. Gossips, tennis fiends, golf bugs, flirts, hypocrites and cheerleaders were surprised rather unpleasantly when they ripped open an "interesting" envelope and found their own portraits facing them from a "comic" valentine.

Don't get mad, Girls, because Cupid loves a joke and who knows but he's laughing up his sleeve at you.

Moral—
Grin and bear the thought
That even a comic valentine
May some day become a candy heart.

LENT.
Lent is not just "around the corner,"

now, it is really and truly with you. You're busting a rollicking good time since the holidays. It is time to forget pleasure for a while and get down to real hard work. How about it Socialists? What are you going to do for yourselves and the Lord during this time of mortification and prayer? Daily Mass and Communion offer you splendid opportunities. The effort it will cost you to get up a little earlier would be a splendid mortification. Try it, why don't you, for a week or two?

BILOXI GAME.

Contrary to all hopes and expectations the Jays lost their second game against Biloxi at the College gym last Saturday night. It took the Jays a whole quarter to get warmed up and the Biloxi sextette made 16 points to their 5 during this time. They played real ball throughout the rest of the game keeping Biloxi from scoring a single point during the third quarter. However our Gold Jays were unable to counteract the advantage which they had given to Biloxi during the first quarter and even though they put up a splendid fight till the end the final score was 23-16 in favor of Biloxi.

GOLD JAYS VS. GULFPORT
S. J. A. GYM, THURSDAY
FEBRUARY 19, 7:30 P. M.

The game scheduled for Thursday against Gulfport promises to be one of the best games of the season. Don't miss it. Come and help our girls to win this encounter. The game is scheduled for 7:30 P. M. and will be played in the S. J. A. gym. Admission 15c and 10c.

DRAMA "ILE" STAGED BY AMERICAN-LEGION BENEFIT S. J. A.

Part of the American Legion program for the celebration of Washington's birthday is a program to be given at 8 P. M. Monday evening in the S. J. A. Memorial Hall. The drama "Ile" is to be presented by the Legionnaires. Admission 50c for adults, 15c for children. Part of the proceeds of this play will be given to S. J. A. Come on girls sell as many tickets as you can and help us to put this play over big for the good of S. J. A.

THE OLD SCHOOL ROOM.

Suppose we should ask the desks in the first room to tell us their secret. I wonder how much they could tell. Here they stand year after year, each year a little older, a little wiser, a little more scarred, and with an inkspot here and there.

Youth will pass away. Other girls will sit where we have sat, trace their initials alongside ours, whisper to their neighbors and giggle under their breath over some trifling incident. Then, they too will leave the room and venture forth into the world, but the old schoolroom will still be here, and youth and life and happiness will be here also, alongside a scratched initial, and the memory of the girls who were once here, also.
